General Items.

Our Western exchanges all speak highly of the account of her [illegible] delivered by Anna E. Dickinson.

The Virginia Enterprise sympathizes with some friend, who is a member of the legal fraternity, and who, by fraternal feeling had paid two weeks board in advance to a restaurant that was closed next day by a constable.

A [illegible] pair of [illegible] evening, by Mr. Wells, of Virginia City, is said to possess the qualities of neatness, convenience and durability.

In San Francisco, Michael McGovern stabbed Charles Myers fatally.

John Straitman, the popular proprietor of a well established literary depot of world wide reputation, has recently been appointed Major in the Second Infantry California State Militia, by Governor Low.

In San Francisco, a ship carpenter named James Fitzpatrick some days ago fell through the hatchway of a vessel, and was picked up in an insensible condition. He died on Thursday, January 17th, from the effects of the fall, leaving a young widow, a lady to whom he had been married but a few weeks.

SHOOTING AFFRAY AT SALMON.—Mr. Winehamer and family will be remembered by many of our citizens as living during last fall in the house adjoining the Theatre on Bridge street, which had formerly been kept as a saloon under the name of "The Green Room." Here Mrs. Winehamer and her daughter carried on the business of dressmaking, while, we think, Mr. Winehamer worked in the gulch. A little over two months ago, a Mr. McNutt, having become enamored either of the daughtes or the old lady, (who can doubt which,) eloped with both the mother and daughter, taking the stage, it was generally believed, for Salt Sake—the land of amours. From a correspondent of the Virginia Post, however, we copy the following tragic sequel of the piece that began in comedy: "A man named Winehamer came here in search of a woman whom he claimed to be his wife. On his arrival he discovered that his truant wife was living with another man. The parties meeting in McNutt's store, an altercation ensued, in which lives were threatened, and a pistol discharged, which, however, did no damage. On the following morning (24th,) while Mr. Winehamer was standing in front of Mr. Malkey's saloon, in Leesburg, some enterprising individual who probably thought the town was not complete without a graveyard, fired through a window on the opposite side of the street, the ball passing through Mr. W.'s left arm, struck the butt of his revolver, and glancing off entered his body below the heart, inflicting a painful, but it is thought not a fatal wound. He was carried into the saloon where his wounds were dressed. There being no surgeon nearer than Bannack, the ball has not yet been extracted. —Helena Gazette, January 19.

A little incident occurred a few days since in one of our prominent dry goods stores, says the Cincinnati Enquirer, which proves that gentlemen sometimes provide for the wants of other women than their wives. A lady, anxious to purchase a camel's hair shawl, could find but one which suited her. After asking the price, which was $1,500, she tried to persuade the clerk to let her have it for $1,000. "Madam," replied he, "your husband, a few hours since, made me the same offer for this very article, and was refused." At this moment pleasure took the place of disappointment, for, of course, Mr. S. wanted it for his wife. In order to assist him in his kind design, she paid, sub rosa, $500 toward the purchase, after which the clerk was to write a note to Mr. S., saying he might have the shawl for $1,000. Mrs. S. went home, delighted with the prospect of so valuable an addition to her wardrobe. Evening came, but the package didn't; so, highly indignant, the lady went to the store to demand an explanation of the neglect. Thereupon, the clerk assured her Mr. S. had carried the bundle away himself. Mrs. S. went home much mystified, but in a few days the riddle was solved. While walking on Fourth street she met a fair but frail one sporting the identical shawl. Now, ladies be warned; never aid your husbands in public charities of that kind.

A SAD SIGHT.—On Saturday morning, Peter D. Headly, who, a few months since, held the lucrative and enviable position of managing agent of one of Wells, Fargo & Co.'s branch establishments, was sentenced by Judge Cowles to three years in the State Prison for robbing his employers. It was a sad sight to see a man—the head of a family—who so recently was so highly respected in the community, fall to the frightful level of a felon, to be compelled, for three weary years, to associate with the wretched classes who constitute the inmates of the State Prison, and to be forever branded with the stigma of that sentence. The unhappy man was deeply affected by his position. What a lesson it should teach to those who, lured by the glare of the gaming table and its kindred temptations, are taking the introductory steps that may lead to the same goal. Alexander Campbell, the prisoner's counsel, gave notice of an appeal from the sentence, and Judge Cowles gave a week's time to file the necessary papers.—San Francisco Times, January 21.

IMPORTANT DIPLOMATIC SUCCESS.—Washburne, our Minister to Paraguay, formerly an editor, of this city, has at last succeeded in reaching the scene of his official duties. The United States gunboat Shamokin took him up, but was stopped before reaching Curupaity, and a Paraguayan boat came alongside to receive Minister Washburne, his lady and one servant. The Shamokin on her trip up was accompanied by a Brazilian gunboat, flying a flag of truce. On reaching the line of the Paraguayans, the Shamokin hoisted the Paraguayan flag and saluted it with twenty-one guns. The Paraguayan batteries returned the complement. That absconding forger, who is reputed to be the only American citizen in Paraguay, had better leave, as Minister Washburne, having nothing else to attend to, may negotiate an extradition treaty.—S. F. Times.

COSTS OF LIGHTING A CITY.—In the city of New York there are 5,500 street lamps and the annual cost of supplying them with gas is $267,400.

Impeachment.

The grave question of the impeachment of the President, which loomed up in such gigantic proportions just after the assembling of Congress, seems, if not to have received its quietus, at least to have greatly subsided. The telegraphic dispatches which some days since announced that Mr. Ashley, of Ohio, had, from his place in the House, charged the President with having been guilty of "high crimes and misdemeanors," also indicated that the Republican Caucus had had the matter under advisement, and had decided upon a course looking to impeachment. Our Eastern exchanges very considerably modify this view of the matter. The more impetuous and radical of the Congressmen, under the lead of Thad. Stevens, of Pennsylvania, and Ashley, of Ohio, are for instant impeachment, and seek by every means in their power to force action by Congress on the question. The majority, however, are disposed to take matters a little more deliberately.

At the late caucus, held on the evening of January 5th, and said to have been called for the purpose of checking the fiery course of Stevens, Ashley & Co., the moderates prevailed and put the brake on the locomotive. After a pretty stormy debate, in which it appeared that Ashley would not and could not be entirely controlled, and Stevens was decidedly more bitter than ever, it was agreed, as a sort of compromise: First, that the ultras might have full swing, in the House, so far as charging home on the President was concerned; Second, that all measures looking towards impeachment should be referred to the Judiciary Committee, and Third, that no articles of impeachment should be presented until decided upon by a majority of the caucus.

Under this arrangement, Mr. Ashley was at liberty to arraign the President in the House as guilty of high crimes and misdemeanors, as he did, and then his resolution and charge were quietly sent to repose, probably for the balance of the session, in the hands of the Judiciary Committee. Mr. Loan, of Missouri, was permitted to introduce his resolution looking to impeachment, and authorizing the same committee to take testimony on the subject, with power to send for persons and papers. Up to the latest telegraphic dates, the Committee had not entered upon their serious duties in this regard, beyond having a consultation with Mr. Ashley. As the present Congress will expire by Constitutional limitation in a little over one month, viz: March 4th, it may be regarded as pretty conclusively settled that no Impeachment trial will be undertaken during this Session.

As an evidence of how determined the Pennsylvania statesman, Mr. Stevens, is, and to what a length his antagonism to the President has led him, it is noticed that in the caucus he insisted that this Congress, which will expire on the 4th of March, could impeach, and the Senate go on trying the case, although one-third of the members of the latter body go out of office at the expiration of this Session, and a new set of Jurors will come in with the next Session. He claims that, being a perpetual body, it does not make any difference how great may be the change in its personnel or component parts. The caucus, however, disagreed entirely with him, and evidently came to the conclusion to let the whole matter go over to the new Congress, except that the Judiciary Committee is authorized to examine into the case.

At the commencement of the Session a very large majority were no doubt in favor of impeachment. But the very decided stand taken by nearly all the leading Eastern journals of the Republican faith, including the New York Tribune and Times, against such a course, has caused Congress to pause, examine the road very thoroughly, and be sure it is right before going ahead. This course will no doubt meet the approbation of the country. If, on fair and careful deliberation and investigation, it shall be found that the Chief Executive has been guilty of offences requiring impeachment to secure the peace and safety of the nation, there is plenty of time after the 4th of March to proceed with the hard task, and there is no very imminent danger menacing the Government in the meantime. In the prosecution of such serious business, involving so nearly the prosperity and highest interests of the country, it is well to go slow. At all events, this seems to be the determination of the Republican Caucus, which controls completely the present Congress.

NEWSPAPER RECEIPTS.—The various daily newspapers of the city made returns to the Revenue Office of their receipts for advertisements, during the last quarter in 1866, as follows: Alta, $29,861; Bulletin, $28,366; Call, $22,431; Examiner, $3,251.

JURY DUTY.—Considerable excitement exists in the Fire Department of Virginia City, Nev., in consequence of Assemblyman Lammon giving notice of a bill to amend the Jury Act, so as to compel the active Firemen to do jury duty.

GREEN AND GRAND RIVERS.—The following letter appeared in the Denver Gazette of the 22d inst.:

Fort Bridger, Utah, December 16.

My Dear Judge:—I have now been here over a month, and am more than ever convinced that my projected expedition up the Colorado river is practicable.

I propose to send a Lieutenant from this fort with 25 men, overland to Fort Mohave, on the Colorado, near the Gulf of California; to go myself to San Francisco, and have constructed a small but strong boat of about 12 tons, with an engine of double the strength usual for that sized boat and capable of giving twice as many revolutions to its wheel, and drawing from 12 to 15 inches of water, and would have it carried around from San Francisco by water to the mouth of the Colorado, where I would meet the 25 men about the middle of July. I would then take on board supplies for two months, and am satisfied I could reach this latitude at a point on Green river, thirty miles east of this Post, in thirty days. I am satisfied that Green river is more susceptible of navigation than the Missouri, far above this point, for over four months in the year. It is generally believed that the Railroad will cross Green river in this vicinity, and the moment it is completed the navigation of this river in both directions will become important both to Government and the settlers.

If it is in your power to aid me in this project, I request the favor. I will make application, about the 1st of January, to the Secretary of War, through the Chief Engineer.

Yours truly,

ANSOM MILLS,

Brevet Lieut.-Col., U. S. A., comd'g Post, Fort Bridger, Utah.

DESERTERS.—The Denver News of January 23d says:

Four of the squad of deserters that escaped from Fort Morgan and threatened Denver about ten days ago, came into town yesterday, reported themselves, and asked to be returned to their company. They give the following account of the escapade:

The desertion was planned by a sergeant of the company, and the party escaping comprised the guard on duty the night they left. Among them were seven men who opposed the movement, but the sergeant and his followers compelled them to go along to secure their own safety. From Kiowa they followed the Smoky Hill road, and at a point twenty miles beyond the junction, the deserting party robbed the seven men referred to, of horses, guns, pistols, etc., and left them upon the prairie. They tried to find settlements, and after undergoing incredible hardships from hunger and cold, at length succeeded; or at least the four who came in here did. They are of the opinion that the three are also safe.

The remaining twenty-four men have also been heard from. Last Saturday morning they were at Pueblo, getting their horses shod. They give their destination as old Mexico. We learn that they have stolen some horses, but no other depredations have been reported. It is probable that they will all be captured soon, as word has gone to all the southern posts in advance of them.

INDIAN FIGHT IN ARIZONA.—A letter from Hardyville, dated the 7th ult., says:

The mail carrier from Prescott reports that on the 2d inst. a party of rangers, headed by Tom Hodges, attacked a camp of Indians near Fort Rock Springs, and killed twenty-two. The rangers lost one man killed and four wounded. The rangers were finally driven back by a large party of Indians. Tom says he found more Indians than he bargained for.

A letter to the Alta from Los Angeles, states that the man killed by the Indians was known as "old man Hartman," who went last spring from Aurora to Arizona. Two of the men wounded were lately from Montana, and the third was the Indian guide. The rangers, fourteen in number, came upon a camp of Indians in a canyon. The camp was what was called a Home Camp, very large, and yet these few men did not hesitate to attack it. They completely broke up and destroyed it. But there were others in the vicinity, and the signal being given, the Indians came down in immense numbers and obliged the rangers to retreat. They had captured a large number of horses and mules, but were obliged to abandon them. If the rangers had numbered twenty-five or thirty men, they would have made a big fight out of it. When they arrived at Hardyville their clothes were all torn and their moccasins entirely worn out.—Virginia Union.

THE FLYING MACHINE.—Our friend Marriott, of the News Letter, announces with confidence and a vein of triump, the near completion and experimental trip of the Avitor. The programme, he tells us, is first an experimental trip at the Shell Mound Park, San Mateo, to be witnessed only by those interested. Next day a like trip in presence of such of our more prominent citizens as may be invited. Next will come the day of public exhibition, to be named. If the Avitor flies and works as it is anticipated by those interested, the day which demonstrates it will be an era in the annals of the country.—San Francisco Examiner.

CHANCE FOR A FIGHT.—The Idaho Times of the 22d has the following:

News reached Boise City, last Sunday evening, that Gen. Crooks had surrounded 400 Indians near Camp Smith, and had sent to that post for subsistence and reinforcements to give them battle. His present force is some 100 men, including 25 partly civilized Boise Shoshone Indians.

A LOTTERY is advertised in Maryland for drawing comfortable berths in a burying ground. Second prizes, we suppose, are pine coffins, and third ones, front seats down below.

MARRIAGE IN PARIS.—One of the most [illegible] and recherche little re[illegible] engagements of the [illegible] by Americans in Paris, took place on Thanksgiving Day. The parties most directly interested were Mr. [illegible] Way, the Boston banker, and Miss [illegible] a charming young brunette, [illegible], of Roxbury. The [illegible] was performed by [illegible] of the American [illegible] bride, who was dressed [illegible] and long lace veil, with [illegible] contrasting finely [illegible] hair, was supported by Miss Salmon [illegible] Mrs. Addie H. Beal. The bride was given away by the United States [illegible] Mr. Bigelow, and a considerable [illegible] the elite of fashionable society in Paris, with representations from the principal banking firms, assembled in the elegant rooms of Mr. Way, at the Grand Hotel, where a season was spent in drinking the health of the bride and bridegroom. The young couple are spending their honeymoon at Versailles.

DRAMATIC.—R. H. Taylor, the well known and popular amateur actor and citizen, has been playing a successful engagement at Virginia City, Nevada, in company with Mrs. Sue Robinson Getzler. The Union has the following remarks on the last performance:

Taylor, with care, is an accomplished actor; but last evening the gentleman behind the scenes was continually suggesting to him what he should say, and Bob, of course, got indignant, not thinking that the chap had any right to suppose that he did not know his business; for, if a man can practice law, boss a mine, be Secretary of six or eight active associations, public lecturer, and general real estate agent, it is wonderfully strange that he could not play "Naval Engagements," or anything else, from the devil up. We would suggest to Mr. Taylor that, in future, if the chap behind the scenes thinks he knows best how to play the part, he be invited to come out and do so.

LEAD MINING.—The smelter in the lead regions of Missouri, reasons thus: When he buys his "mineral," he pays, as a rule, 50 per cent. of the market price of lead—lead is now 11 cents per pound; so that "mineral" is worth 5½ cents per pound. He pays $55 00 per 1,000 pounds for his "mineral." He reckons all his expenses in smelting, hauling and selling in St. Louis, at $5 00 per 1,000 pounds of "mineral," or a total of $60 00. He produces 750 pounds of lead at 11 cents—$82 50—making a profit, when taxes are taken off, of about $20 00 per 1,000 pounds of "mineral." The lead produced in this region contains little silver, so that it has never been found profitable to extract it. It is also very clear of other metals, such as antimony, arsenic, etc., tending to harden or render it difficult to work.

INFORMATION WANTED.—Information is wanted of a young man named John William Prydz, who is supposed to have left this city on or about the 6th of May last year, and gone to Montana. His mother, Eliza Prydz, came to this city, from Denmark, last October, expecting to join him, and is nearly frantic because she can learn nothing definite of him, having exhausted all her means, and is very anxious to learn his whereabouts. If this should meet his eye he will greatly relieve her by communicating with her at once. Any information concerning him, sent to the care of G. O'Hara Traffe, the Danish Consul in this city, will be thankfully received. Interior papers will confer a great favor on a distressed lady by republishing this item.—Alta California.

THE following is appended to the biography of Hon. Alexander Stephens:

"Many amusing and some provoking things have occurred from his terribly bad writing, in which Hon. Rufus Choate was his only rival, and of which we will give at least one fac simile of a late date. Printers often set up Tuesday for Thursday, and north for south, or friends fill appointments too soon or too late. He once ordered two 'Dagon' plows, and old kind bearing that name which he wished. He received two dozen, a full carload of another kind. Once, when the writer was with him on a visit, he ordered fifty pounds of rice and received fifty pounds of ice."

Two families of Carter county, East Tennessee, have been waging a bloody war between each other for twenty years. During this time fourteen men belonging to these two families have lost their lives, and on the evening of the 5th of December the vendetta came to a bloody end in the streets of Elizabethtown, Tenn., by the two sole surviving males of the Roberts and Johnson families engaging in a personal altercation, which resulted fatally to both. This domestic war originated about a dozen fence rails.

ASSASSINATION.—During last night Charles Elwood, brother of D. P. Elwood, of this city, was brought to this city with his throat cut. It appears that Mr. E., while walking on the track of the L. C. R. R., near Ramsay, was attacked by ruffians, coming up behind him, cutting his throat, and then robbing him of all the money he had in his possession. We are glad to state that hopes are entertained of his recovery. His feet are badly frozen, having lain all night on the track.—Decatur Magnet, January 16.

"PRESIDENT ROBERTS, of the Irish Republic, recently wrote a letter to Colonel Lynch, prisoner in Canada, in which he stated his hope that Lynch might become a martyr, for the good of the cause. Roberts has since forwarded thirty-five overcoats to the jailed Fenians in Toronto, which Lynch refused to receive, saying it was a catch-penny to draw funds to the Fenian treasury.

SORRY.—A French journal tells a little story about a lady, or rather she is made to tell it herself: "When I was first married I was on my knees before my husband from morning till night. It was a perpetual adoration, an incessant delirium, and inexpressible bliss. I showered caresses upon him; I could have eaten him." "And now?" asked a friend. "I am sorry I didn't."

GEORGE W. GUTHRIE TO START A PAPER IN PARIS.—"Malakoff," the Paris correspondent of the New York Times, who is always early posted up on American topics in France, writes in his letter of December 4th that George W. Guthrie, of San Francisco, is going to start a newspaper in Paris, to be printed in English, and called the Paris-American. It will be a daily journal.

A cubic yard of gold is worth, in round numbers, $10,000,000, and in this estimate all the gold in the world, if melted into ingots, might be contained in a cellar twenty-four feet square and sixteen feet high. All the boasted wealth already obtained from California and Australia would go into an iron safe nine feet square and nine feet high.

THE "HUB" THEATRES.—The receipts of the several places of amusement in Boston for the month of November, 1866, as returned to the Revenue Office, were as follows: Boston Theatre, $27,876; Boston Museum, $14,716; Howard Athenæum, $13,636; Continental Theatre, $11,628; Theatre Comique, $10,092; Morris Brothers' Opera House, $9,687.

THE SIAMESE TWINS.—Those evidences of the singular freaks which Mother Nature sometimes takes in giving her children birth—are now on exhibition at St. Joe, Missouri. They are accompanied by two wild Australians—representatives of the connecting link between man and monkey.

A LADY at Hannibal, Missouri, to avoid the expense of different birthday celebrations for her children, has so arranged it that on every 28th of November, for the last six years, she has presented her happy lord with twins. On the last 28th there was no exception to the rule.

AN enormous steam engine, of over 4,000-horse power, is to be placed in position at the building of the Paris Exposition. This engine, which is now being transported from Havre to Paris, is intended to work the pumps supplying water to the building.

BARONET PUNISHED.—Charles Reh, a Democratic member of the New Jersey Legislature from Hoboken, has been [illegible] to stand in the pillory one hour in the State Penitentiary and forever disfranchised, having been convicted of bribery.

DIED.

In Stockton, Cal., on the morning of the 29th ult., Mr. ST. CLAIR LEVER.

[The above sad intelligence we received by telegraph yesterday. The deceased was our personal friend. In October last we left him in good health. Shortly afterwards he was taken sick, and the destroying hand of Death has thus suddenly hurried him into eternity.

We can scarcely do justice to his memory in this feeble attempt to record his many virtues. His intelligence was far beyond the common order of man. In the various capacities of school teacher and accountant, his valued qualities won for him an enviable reputation. He had just reached the meridian of life, when everything was bright before him.

Mr. Lever was a native of England, and his friends at home may rest assured that many a warm heart beats with theirs in sympathy for his demise.

He was our warm and tried friend, and we shall ever cherish his memory with kindest thoughts, and feel a deep regret for the loss we sustain by his death.]

Daily Union Vedette

Local and Miscellaneous.

ADVERTISERS.—The VEDETTE is the pioneer newspaper of Utah. Its extensive circulation in the mining camp and city of Montana and Idaho, which it gives the telegraphic despatches a whole week ahead of the Pacific papers, makes it the most advantageous medium for advertising in these four Territories.

MINING IN IDAHO.—The Times, of the 22d says, of the Landon Ledge, that Messrs. [illegible], owners of the above mine, are meeting with unexpected success. Six weeks working has yielded more than was actually needed in six months' labor in its development. A rich strike has been made in a tunnel on the ledge from the bottom of the old shaft. A number of men are constantly employed taking out ore for early spring operations. And also that a letter has been received by a citizen of Idaho Territory from New York, which states that the Fourth of July, Junietta and Landon ledges were being negotiated for by New York capitalists.

NOTICE.—All Masons in good standing, ladies and friends, are invited to attend the Masonic Social Union on Friday evening at 7 o'clock—the first opening of the new Hall. An Grand Masonic address will be delivered. Cards issued.

WM. G. HIGLEY,
JOS. F. NOUNNAN,
S. GOLDSTEINE,
} Committee.

HURT Us.—Dr. J. H. Harris, who has for some time pursued the practice of medicine in this city, left us on Wednesday last for Idaho, from whence he will proceed to California. The Doctor leaves a host of friends who regret his departure. His son, Mr. H. B. Harris, left the same day on the Western coach for California, where he intends to follow the profession of his worthy sire.

FORT SUMNER.—At Fort Sumner, New Mexico, there are at present, who are subsisting at the expense of the Government, eight thousand and forty-four persons; six hundred and forty-five of which are the officers and men of the garrison, and seven thousand four hundred and nineteen Indians, of the Navajo and other tribes. So says the Santa Fe Gazette.

HERE AND BELOW.—The bright and cheering rays of the sun makes everything above look pleasant, but all must hold up their heads, for looking down, nothing but mud greets the eye. The mild, and we may say, warm state of the weather, makes home more pleasant than parading the streets. Polished boots have no chance.

ELECTION.—The approaching election of delegate to Congress furnishes a prolific theme of conversation, comment and discussion on the street. The number of the votes that will probably be cast is a theme of general remark. Mr. M'Grorty is in the field, and confident of success.

LUCKY HOMBEE.—Mr. Charles King was the lucky winner of the mare, raffled for at the Bank Exchange, on Wednesday last. He can now do his hunting on horseback or (still more comfortable) in a sleigh, with the ribbons in his own hands.

WELL THEY GO.—Mr. C. H. Price and Mr. Richardson leave to-day in the Northern mines. The pleasant recollection of their society can scarcely recompense us for its loss. The golden fields of Montana yield them a rich harvest. "'Tis thus we part."

TELEGRAPHIC NEWS.—The wires were down yesterday east of Chicago. They were up again last night, but not in time for our issue of to-day. Our readers will have the benefit of all telegraphic news in to-morrow's paper.

THERE will be a special communication of Jordan Lodge A. F. & A. M. at their new Hall on Saturday evening.

BLESSING.—The Virginia Union of the 16th, says:

"Notwithstanding the inclemency of the season, the work of grading on the Central Pacific Railroad, beyond Crystal Peak, is being pushed forward with great vigor, and it is confidently asserted by those who ought to know that cars will be running in the Truckee valley on or before the 4th of July next.

A cock fight in Nevada one of the fowls named Andy Johnson and the other Thad. A large and very heavy betting took place, owing to the partiality of the spectators. Thad killed Andy at the first onset.
